

I Sing for Joy Psalm 92 and 42

It is a joy to give thanks to the Eternal,
to sing thy praise, O God most High,
to proclaim thy goodness in the morning
to the sweet music of the lyre.

I sing for joy at all that thou hast done,
and for this life that to us is given,
we stand in wonder and in awe.

Let us give thanks for the blessings of the spirit,
for gifts of love that are shared by all;
and for this life that to us is given,
we stand in wonder and in awe.

I sing for joy at all that thou hast done,
and for this life that to us is given,
we stand in wonder and in awe.

And just as the deer for running water longs, so longs my soul for Thee. (2x)

I sing for joy at all that thou hast done, for all thou hast done, I sing for joy, I sing for joy at all that thou hast done, for all that thou hast done, for all thou hast done, hast done. I sing, I sing for joy.

It is a joy to give thanks to the Eternal,
to sing thy praise, O God most High,
to proclaim thy goodness in the morning
to the sweet music of the lyre.

I sing for joy at all that thou hast done,
and for this life that to us is given,
we stand in wonder and in awe.

I sing for joy.
