

Rejoice in the Light

Stephen Peebles, adapted from "My Religious Experience"

There came a great white light to shine around me.
And I walked in this light.

My footsteps were firmer than they before had been.
And I rejoiced in this light, and in the ease, it gave me in walking.

There came a great white light to shine around me.
And I walked in this light.

My footsteps were firmer than they before had been.
And I rejoiced in this light, and in the ease, it gave me in walking.

Then there came light from Theodore Parker and from Edward Eve'rett Hale, and from Emerson and Channing and James Freeman Clark.

I doubt if Paul 'ere rejoiced more in the light that came to him, than I rejoiced in this light 'round me.

Sing hallelujah, sing hallelujah...
And I rejoiced, and I rejoiced, and I rejoiced in this light 'round me.
